

A Conference in Honor of Donald Campbell

Anthropologist, Cognitive Scientist, Methodologist,
Philosopher, Psychologist, Sociologist

September 10-11, 2015
Lehigh University

Lehigh University is hosting a conference to honor the memory and explore the ideas of one of the most illustrious members of its community. Don Campbell (1916-1996) combined an extraordinary intellect with a wonderful personality. His work exerted a major influence on a wide range of fields, with an integrating theme of questions concerning how we can know and learn about our world. We will be celebrating his life and legacy with talks from former students, friends, and colleagues. Confirmed speakers at this point include: Gordon Bearn, Mark Bickhard, Marilyn Brewer, David Hamilton, Cecilia Heyes, Alex Levine, Norman Miller, William Wimsatt. We hope you can join us.
