Apply for a GAANN Fellowship

Lehigh University’s Department of Psychology was awarded a GAANN (Graduate Assistance in Areas of National Need) grant from the U.S. Department of Education. We will award three GAANN fellowships to Ph.D. students starting in Fall 2017 in addition to our typical graduate student recruitment. Students must apply to our PhD program to be considered for GAANN fellowships.

We are committed to recruiting a diverse graduate student body. Members of underrepresented minorities are especially encouraged to apply.

The Psychology Department at Lehigh University is a research-intensive department where graduate students and faculty work collaboratively within and across three areas: cognitive, developmental, and social psychology.

Research topics include:
• Cognitive, Emotional and Sociocultural Development
• Attention, Memory, Language, Categorization and Reasoning
• Social Cognition including Prejudice, Attitudes, Conformity and Moral Judgment
• Health-Related Cognition, Stress and Coping

The fellowship package includes:
1. Full tuition waiver
2. Highly competitive stipend for 3 years
3. Funds to attend a scientific conference
4. Supervised teaching experience
5. Continued stipend and tuition support for 2 additional years. After year 3, students will be supported as either a teaching assistant or a research assistant in the department.

Who is eligible for a GAANN fellowship?
Applicants with:
• Outstanding academic records
• Aspirations to careers in teaching or research
• Demonstrated financial need
• US citizenship or permanent resident

Applicants not eligible for GAANN awards can still receive other Lehigh fellowships/support.

For more information about our graduate program and how to apply, please visit https://psychology.cas2.lehigh.edu/content/welcome-graduate-program-psychology

For other inquiries, please contact Graduate Director Dr. Almut Hupbach at hupbach@lehigh.edu.